

Hey Kids (feat. Tegan Quin)

David Usher

Speak speaking for myself pretend im someone else i never felt the same well this time breath im breathing up the air its burning up my lungs its burning through my hair and i never felt hey kids what are you rocking for stick a finger through the sky im blowing up the sun the earth is going to die i might die too and all the things i love and all the things i need i never quite received and its still
i am standing in the rain im laughing at myself today and im breaking from the strain
and i never need more than all of your buddies dont you know i never needed more than all of your love its only been a game
palpitation of the heart i never wanted more so maybe we could play
the bleeding of the heart you let your missiles fire and we all start to run
