Beneath the Mire

Opeth

Haunted nights for halcyon days
Can't sleep to the scraping of his voice
Nature's way struck grief in me
And I became a ghost in sicknessWillingly guided into heresy
Beneath the surface, stark emptiness
And you'd pity my conviction
Whereas I thought of myself as a leaderYou'd cling to your pleasant hope
It is twisted fascination
While I'd ruin the obstacles into despair
And I'm praising deathLost love of the heart
In a holocaust scene memoryDecrepit body wearing transparent skin
Inside the smoke of failureWept for solace and submit to faith
In his shadow I'm choking, yet flourishingMaster, a delusion made me stronger
Yet I'm draped in pale withering flesh
I sacrificed more than I had
And left my woes beneath the mire
