

Bleed in My Arms

Sentenced

No, you don't want me to be there
To kiss your eyes, caress your hair or kill that pain away
As pain is my companion, solitude my guide Your sweet affection solely offers me a threat I cannot abide Yet you'll lose yourself in me in me Bleed in my arms wounds within
Fall from grace as I offer you sin
Sacrifice yourself so frail
This pseudo-love is as good as betrayal So place your love in the palm of my hand where temptation lies within that something you've yet to feel
And as I close my fist and awake your sleeping fears Without forbearance I will quench my thirst of your crimson tears You've lost yourself in me in me Bleed in my
arms wounds within
Fall from grace as I offer you sin
Sacrifice yourself so frail
This pseudo-love is as good as betrayal Weep for promises which all died
A drop of tear for every lie
Love forever torn away
I am only to cherish your pain I am only to cherish your pain
