

Exploiting Your Weakness

Mushroomhead

The mind is a sponge absorbing your secrets the body's open up and close your mind catastrophe, evaporation growing far across the shining masses back to your birthplace scenarios at one exploiting your weakness a brand new kind of left behind worst case now rounding first base far from home moral is crumbling these dice are tumbling words I'm mumbling stumbling on my own holocaust unglued a brand new kind of left behind drowning in the shallow in my head body warping on nonsense from the fountain feed down on your knees for the best new line of promises words in my head life ... living isn't for everyone death ... I'm mumbling stumbling on my own perfect slowly comes sunburnt beneath the gallows stumbling on my own holocaust darker existence after this hell a brand new kind of left behind kind of left behind
