Follower (feat. Adrian Fitipaldes)

Structures

Can we just let it all go? /
Forget what was said /
I'm losing control of my body and soul, and my head is drifting away /
As black fades to red, a voice calls out to me /
"You wanna do it again?" /
You like the taste of fire burning through like cancer? /
What ever you desire... Acquire it! /
We're all capable of being what we want to /
So which side are you on? /
You tread so lightly on a line in the sand and if you can't decide then you're already gone /
I am the cure /
Where in this moment, all your dreams are certainties /
What you say is so discerning I just wish I was dead /
But I'll never experience the emotion that comes with a separation from the head, to the spirit of the body /
I can't speak /
I can't breathe /
But in this moment, my mind is an ocean waiting for the calm before this storm /
"You wanna do it again?" /
You like the taste of fire burning through like cancer? /
What ever you desire... Acquire it! /
I told you the world is yours to keep, as long as you're still sleeping /
But I am the cure, I am the remedy /
You left me here again /
Dependance is a friend /
Alone until the end /
Dependance is a friend, so take your leave and go /
Can we just let it go? /
Can we just let it all go? /
Cause we forget the words we said /
This picture was worth a thousand memories before you smudged our faces /
Our minds erasing, before our eyes /
Our minds erasing, before our eyes /
I told you the world is yours to keep, as long as you're still sleeping /
But I am the cure, I am the remedy /
You left me here again /
Dependance is a friend /
Alone until the end /
Dependance is a friend, so take your leave and go
