

Heaven

Kelly Rowland

I wanna love together
Kissing and touching feels better
Now that I have, have you
I couldn't ask for nothing more Like misty breeze on summer days
Or the warmth of sun after rain
You always seem to balance me with your love
If you're far away I want you near
Might sound cliché
No words are so sincere can
You taste the joy inside my tears
I'm so in love I have found love's treasure
In this ocean of pleasure
And now that I have, have you
I won't search for anything more Ooh love, what have you done to me?
This crazy feeling that I can't describe
It feels like love it must be love it must be love
Feels like snow caressing mountain tops
When I see your eyes from afar
All I can do is run with open arms
And love with all I've got
I feel so at home, we're alone Love, when I'm in your arms
It feels like I'm melting into you
You keep me so warm
Ooh I feel so high above
Caught a glimpse of Heaven in your eyes
Thanks for showing me love, your love is so good Baby we'll grow together
This is a joint endeavor
And there's nothing I'd rather see
Than the love in your eyes for me 'Cause this feeling is so surreal
It touch me places I didn't feel
I used to want but now I'm filled
Trust in love
I'm elated and overjoyed over
This connection of girl and boy
Oh I was empty till you filled the void
I'm so in love Love, when I'm in your arms
It feels like I'm melting into you
You keep me so warm
Ooh I feel so high above

Caught a glimpse of Heaven in your eyes
Thanks for showing me love, your love is so good
Love, when I'm in your arms
It feels like I'm melting into you
You keep me so warm
