Caramel

Corinne Bailey Rae

It isnâ€™t love, but pain, that makes you brave
A secret wire you walk but still remain devoted Quaking like weâ€™re old lovers
Aching in the dark
Wondering, who could be the one to melt your heart
Iâ€™ve seen love, vast as oceans
Melt like blood

I see your silhouette across the night
It makes me sad â€˜cause youâ€™re so beautiful
Lover, donâ€™t wait too long
After all this bitterness

It tastes like caramel
After all this bitterness
Delicious as caramel
And itâ€™s like seeing the sun again
After years of only pouring rain on my soul
It doesnâ€™t matter now
Just to know itâ€™s possible
Is all I ever dreamed
You give me strength I donâ€™t know why
Resurrect me from the pyre
And itâ€™s the sweet death of your pain
After all this bitterness
Caramel

Thereâ€™s nothing I could do to make it right
And nothing I could say to make the dark seem brighter
But hereâ€™s the one that paints wishes
Riding on a star
Hereâ€™s the one that can make a fire
From just a spark
Lure me out, in the desert
And call me home

It tastes like caramel
After all this bitterness
Delicious as caramel
And itâ€™s like seeing the sun again

After years of only pouring rain on my soul
It doesnâ€™t matter now
Just to know itâ€™s possible
Is all I ever dreamed
You give me strength I donâ€™t know why
And itâ€™s the sweet death of your pain
After all this bitterness
Caramel
