Abandonment

Scars Of Tomorrow

Oh, standing on our own
We've witnessed a change
In the way we live our lives
And we abandoned everythingEverythingYou only see what your heart will let you
You only see what your heart will let you, free your heart
Your soul condemned by hatred like a rusted knife
Impaled in our woundsAnd we see in our hearts and in our dreams
And we see in our hearts and in our dreams
Take us back, take us back, when time was born
Take us back, take us back and there is so much moreAnd we have witnessed everything
What's in our hearts
And we have witnessed everything
What's in our heartsWhat's in our hearts
Your soul condemned by hatred like a rusted knife
Impaled in our woundsStanding on our own
We've witnessed a change
In the way we live our lives
And we abandoned everythingEverythingAnd we see in our hearts and in our dreams
And we see in our hearts and in our dreams
Take us back, take us back, when time was born
Take us back, take us back and there is so much moreAnd we have witnessed everything
What's in our hearts
And we have witnessed everything
What's in our heartsYou try to be something that you can't be
Free your heart
You try to be something that you can't be
Free your heart, your heart, free your heartFree your heart
Free your heart
Free your heart
Free your heart
Free your heartStanding on, standing on
On our own
Standing on, standing on
On our ownFree your heart
Free your heart
Free your heart
Free
