

Kings of Deceit

Affiance

Life keeps moving on as if nothing happened.
With questions we have failed to ask.
Convince ourselves that these questions matter, but when we ask they remain unanswered.
We all watch in suspense waiting for the climax, but we've been waiting too long.
Our kingdom overthrown and a king, a king dethroned by the kings of deceit.
Reciting our lines made up of lies.
Reading the script thinking we're wise.
Deep inside the roles you'll find the plot to conquer all mankind.
Power doesn't come from the barrel of a gun.
A shift that defines our strength, to defines your crushing weight.
Where JUSTICE seeks corruption, and FREEDOM saves the week.
I'm done reciting your lies.
I won't stop until i find the truth.
This time I will dethrone you!
Power doesn't come from the barrel of a gun.
It comes from TRUTH, and we will seek out JUSTICE.
Your death will not be in vain!

---

Lyrics submitted by Steve Westly.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>