

Elvis In Vegas

Meat Loaf

I didn't take a suitcase
I had to travel light
I climbed down my bedroom window
It was just about quarter past midnight Out on the highway
I hitched a ride, I was heading west
I had to listen to some trucker
Tell me all about the meaning of life Got a ride just outside of Memphis
I was wild out on the road
I saw shanties and shacks and burnt out Cadillacs
And faces that flittered like fawn Should have seen it coming
Oh, I should have seen the signs
I saw seven horses running
I had a front row seat at the end of time I was just fifteen
And the world was mine
And I watched my dreams
Come to life on that night
I saw Elvis in Vegas
I saw Elvis in Vegas Now since that long lost summer
I ain't ever looked back
Now the lines on my face
Are looking more like cracks When the things all crumble
It's time to face the facts
I don't care about tomorrow
Oh, there's no looking back I should have seen it coming
Oh, I should have seen the signs
I saw seven horses running
I had a front row seat at the end of time I was just fifteen
And the world was mine
And I watched my dreams
Come to life on that night I was standing tall
Felt I would never die
And I watched it all
In the white spot light I saw Elvis in Vegas
I saw Elvis in Vegas
I saw Elvis in Vegas
I saw Elvis in Vegas I should have seen it coming
Oh, I should have seen the signs
I saw seven horses running
I had a front row seat at the end of time When the lights went out

I heard a young girl scream
The sound of my heart beat
The make up on her brow I was just fifteen
And the world was mine
And I watched my dreams
Come to life on that night I was standing tall
Felt I would never die
And I watched it all
I saw Elvis in Vegas
I saw Elvis in Vegas
I saw Elvis in Vegas
Oh, I saw Elvis in Vegas
