

Let It Go

Tim Halperin

I try to walk from here
But it seems my feet disappear
It didn't stop my thoughts from travelling
To places in spite of their fear
I looked over all the past to find
That the only way out is time
So I'll let it go,
Yeah, I'll let it go...It takes me a while to realize I'm wrong
I try to keep my mouth shut
But that never last long
I've been compromised
By my own disguise,
Soon I'll realize
What it feels like to let it go,
So I'll let it goStone-cold buildings smile as I walk by Sneering at defeat
With plenty of reasons why
It took all I had to lay me on the line
And I'm back, it's a fact,
Things got the best of me this timeIt takes me a while to realize I'm wrong
I try to keep my mouth shut
But that never last long
I've been compromised
By my own disguise,
Soon I'll realize
What it feels like to let it go...Paint a weather love should grow
It seems that I can't let go
Things I still want to know
But it seems that I can't let go...So I'll stay away if you want me to,
Time needs distance
I'll stay away if you want me to
So I'll stay away if you want me to,
Time needs distance
I'll stay away...I've been compromised
By my own disguise,
Soon I'll realize
What it feels like to let it go...
