Willingly

David Whitfield

When I was just just a young boy
My mama said to me
Don't fall in love willinglyNow that is all forgotten
Unwilling memoryBut if you change your mind
I will walk the line
I'll follow willinglyWe used to talk about it
But now it seems the wind has blown your way
And I have come to doubt it
That you and I will ever love again'Cause good enough is one thing
That I will never be
And I admit it all willinglyAnd now the times are changing
The things I've seen before don't look the same
My life is rearranging
But falls apart with whispers of your nameAnd though I swear to love you
With all sincerity
I'll slowly fade away willinglyThe sun is on my shoulders
Perhaps it's colder for I've lost some pride
Or maybe it's the absence
Of all the joy I felt right by your sideAnd when the storm was over
I found your memory
And I will hold it warm willingly
