

Pretty

Lauren Alaina

You spend an hour on your hair
And you can't find a thing to wear at all
You pile that makeup on real thick
Trace outside the lines of your thin lips
'Cause they ain't big enough
All the other girls are thinner
So you skip another dinner
You tell yourself it's for your health
What's the matter with this picture?
Girl, deep down you know better Beautiful is who you are
When no one's watching, it's your heart
That should be the one to tell your story
'Cause the rhythm that it's beating is your glory
The truth inside you can't erase 'cause
It ain't written on your face
There's no difference between a mirror and a liar because
Pretty is as pretty does, does You've got hopes and you've got dreams
But you've been hiding them behind the scenes, oh yeah
But pretty cares and pretty loves
And I'm pretty sure you're more than just skin deep, oh
Them high heels won't get you higher
Let your kindness be a fire burning bright
You're the light Beautiful is who you are
When no one's watching, it's your heart
That should be the one to tell your story
'Cause the rhythm that it's beating is your glory
The truth inside you can't erase 'cause
It ain't written on your face
There's no difference between a mirror and a liar because
Pretty is as pretty does, does, pretty does So be brave, be strong
Keep your love light on
Be the right in all the wrongs
Yeah, be generous and be radiant
You are confident Oh, beautiful is who you are
When no one's watching, it's your heart
That should be the one to tell your story
'Cause the rhythm that it's beating is your glory
The truth inside you can't erase 'cause
It ain't written on your face

There's no difference between a mirror and a liar because
Pretty is as pretty does So be brave, be strong
Keep your love light on
Be the right in all the wrongs
(Pretty does) be generous and be radiant (yeah, yeah)
You are confident
Pretty is as pretty does, oh
Does
