

Egg

The Garden

I feel like I haven't trust in what has changed has been enough
I couldn't grasp what wasn't there
Until I fell through tongues sweet grab These fragile eggs will likely crack
Unless we pick another trap
I have myself I've straightened my back
Advance forward I won't look back I broke this bubble that bought my sense
This machine rebuilt again
What other city can be a test
Do I really think I'm at my best These fragile eggs will likely crack
Unless we pick another trap
I have myself I've straightened my back
Advance forward I won't look back
I've completely life goes on
I have been up until the sun
Cut through that small place at my back
I will prevail I don't need that

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>