Simplest Long

Akae Beka

Intro
Yea, yea, yes
Hey, yea, yes
Hey, yea

Verse 1
Now, there's no ice to break connecting a law
Hometown, the crowd, feelings of high, people bruk out
Inna ripple effect it's contagion around
Now, what's more pleasing as the people surround?
Haile I Selassie (?) sound
A smile took the place where a frown dismount,
Reassurance from which part sparks could'a fly out
That's what a community's potential's all about, Now..

CHORUS
Love one another in a di simplest long
In the simplest long (x 2)

Verse 2
Just make the best we have to offer stand out
Elegantly dressed and still'a jump and shock out
Invigorated, stimulated life will result
Hailing Rastafari from eye in the sun
Now..
Inna every place where it have like-minded ones
How can we benefit civilation run along
Starting from locality, internal, structural Consider inclusion which declared, come along

Bridge
Who want fi see tings getting better put your hands (up)
Ideal i-manity practicing rastaman
Next 50 percent is the queen-hold strong
Wha Jah seh fi do fi make di trinity prolong? Now.. (Rep Cho)

Verse 3
How great to see all his majesty's ones
Don't wait fi be this moment every instance
Cheerful and grateful inna health and is strong

It's not where you're from it's inna your vibration Good times I and I living with fi reminisce about Fast-track di riddim mek the singers cool dung
Make all di children of a merit get dem recognition
Make di powerful one don't want fi hurt no one. Now..Now..

Verse 4
Contribute where you're at don't despise where you're from Critical must mean a better suggestion
(?) moving at a dead run
Creation, emanation, physics, old, some, and young
Don't make none of us create your intention
Science for the well-being of every nation
Local and diversity, not a professional
Some return from foreign studies cultured and efficient
Hands to the plough inna dem territory stance, Now...Now

Repeat Bridge x 1
Repeat Chorus x 3

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/