Craw

[INTRO: CRAW]

La da da da da, uh,

La da da da da, yeah[VERSE 1: CRAW]

She didn't have a heart, she had an empty box,

Did what I said, I programmed her thoughts,

Twice a day she'd cook and clean pots,

We talked politics, religion and cops,

Always to the point, that's how I need it,

Cold feet but never wet, it's just the reason, uh,

No emotions, estrogen or demons,

Just one mood every season, yeah,

She was a doctor, a lawyer, a scholar,

Graduated with honors but didn't go to college, huh,

Told her I love you, she didn't understand,

Asked me why, every time I tried to hold her hand,

I was a broken man, knew how to fix me,

Recited Maya when I turned against me,

Nothing colder than her glare man I swear,

Right there she looked me in the eyes and she said[CHORUS: CRAW]

I can't be the me to me you see,

Believe I need to breathe, indeed I bleed,

But blood is blue it runs through you not me,

You see love to you is not love to me,

I can't be the me to me you see,

Believe I need to breathe, indeed I bleed,

But blood is blue it runs through you not me,

You see love to you is not love to me[VERSE 2: CRAW]

King of the capitol with a capital C,

You like my B side, always beside me, huh,

I was the boss 'till I lead you to the lead,

Student to the teacher, didn't teach her to leave,

Nah, uh, I cry and you question me,

One bed but you never slept next to me,

I guess this happens when love grow apart,

You keep the attitude, I'll keep the scars,

Tears in my eye as I picked up the shovel,

The homies always told me you was trouble, uh,

But I doubt um, heart on my sleeve,

Hole getting deeper, harder to breathe,

I ask you, but you still as a statue,
That make me mad too, now I'm 'bout to slap you,
Fuck it, face mingle in the dirt,
Last chance, she didn't say a single word,
Got me yelling at the sky, like why would you do this,
Why I got to be looking foolish,
Douse her with gasoline, I hope your soul rots,
That's what I get for falling for a robot
