Broken

Jessie Chris

You can't fix what's been broken, even if you tried.
Just leave that enough alone, cause I've come to realize.
If you can't love me then I'll love myself, enough to say goodbye.
You can't fix what's been broken. Baby, not this time.

Don't try to tell me that you love me, to keep me from walking away.
Cause your words, they come too easy.
You never mean what you say, and it doesn't matter anyway.

You can't fix what's been broken, even if you tried.
Just leave that enough alone, cause I've come to realize.
If you can't love me then I'll love myself, enough to say goodbye.
You can't fix what's been broken. Baby, not this time.

You only want, what you can't have.
And I can't have, what I want.
Maybe this wouldn't hurt so bad, if I thought you loved me, but you don't.

You can't fix what's been broken, even if you tried.
Just leave that enough alone, cause I've come to realize.
If you can't love me then I'll love myself, enough to say goodbye.
You can't fix what's been broken. Baby, not this time.

Lyrics Submitted by Jessie Powers

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/