

Wheels

Lone Justice

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I wish you never even loved me
It makes it so hard to live without love
Now I know you're often thinking of me
Sometimes I feel you so close by that it takes
All my might to keep from trying to track you down I can surely keep you out of sight
Forget about the way you look, your smile, the way you speak
But I've heard in the dead of night
Outside my window silence breaking with the solid
Destination of your lonesome speed I know the sound of your wheels
Yeah, yeah, yeah
I know the sound of your wheels
Yeah, yeah, yeah
I know the sound of your wheels I had a handle on my sorrow
My composure was in order if not sufficiently intact
But every reminiscent echo
Brings a blow to chill my senses and my heart quakes
And tenses 'til those moments pass I know the sound of your wheels
Yeah, yeah, yeah
I know the sound of your wheels
Yeah, yeah, yeah
I know the sound of your wheels Every trace, every vision
Brings my emotions to collision
Past love's lost tokens
Every cherished thought once spoken
False hope of reconciliation I know the sound of your wheels
Yeah, yeah, yeah
I know the sound of your wheels
Yeah, yeah, yeah
I know the sound of your wheels
