

Lost In the Harbour

Tom Waits

Over here the ladies all want sweet perfume
But there's never a rose
And over there the roses are frightened to bloom
So they never can grow And over here they need wool
For weaving their baby's new clothes
But nobody has any wool
And the sheep are all lost in the harbor
Lost in the harbor And over here they want diamonds to wear
But there aren't any here
And over there everyone's hiding their tears
But they're crying inside And the wall won't come down
Till they're no longer afraid of themselves
And if you don't believe me ask yourselves
And then I can come down to the harbor
Down to the harbor

Songwriters

Tom Waits Published by

Lyrics Â© Jalma Music

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>