

Leave Me In the Dark

Walking Papers

I was born with blood shot eyes and a broken heart
I've got the experience but I'm not very smart
I was raised on a shoestring, I was thrown to the wolves
I cut my teeth on minor chords, I was trampled under hooves
If love is blind baby you can leave me in the dark
You can count on your fingers everyone you've ever kissed
You don't waste your time waiting on things that don't exist
You choose your weapons, you know when to bite your tongue
You're done dwelling on what they did to you when you were young
If love is blind baby you can leave me in the dark
Who knows what we might find if we knew where to start Oooh...Everyone has loose ends maybe it's time to let go
The answer to your question is you already know
You can push my buttons I've been waiting here so long
I've always known what's good for me
But I chose to do what's wrong
