

Nervous Man

Armored Saint

The clouds roll in one by one
And the shapes seem to spell out caution
Many worries in my mind
Without too many options I take a trip to soothe the pain
And get away from the problem
I'm near, sign reads clear
It's plain inside your cranium Look at the speed you ran
You're just a nervous man
Too much for your own hand
Delirious nomad I find no end to this
Paranoid, well, perhaps a bit
But I am a spy
Loneliest guy with no one to lean on Look at the speed you ran
You're just a nervous man
Too much for your own hand
Delirious nomad Look at the seed you plant
Now you're a newborn man
Pounding with your right hand
Delirious nomad Delirious nomad
