

I Fell in Love with Princess Peach

Hot Mulligan

Did you think I could stop being selfish?
I do what I can, but it's chemical
There are just somethings you can't change
Like the color of your eyes or
How your hair parts to one side naturally
Please don't tell me to change
I'm more than content living this way
And I hope someday that you will feel the same
About me.

If you could change anything,
Please just stay the same
Because I love everything about you.
It's the color of your hair (the color of your hair)
The way you rub your eyes when you get tired
And how you can fall asleep nearly anywhere
You said I'm just too thin
That you hate your dad, and I'm just like him
I always become afraid when shit gets real
I've lost all of my composure
Falling down your stairs breaking souvenirs that,
Your grandmother handed down to you

Let's just say I messed everything up
And my attitude's just too damn much
I will never be, what you need.

Lyrics Submitted by Dayan Carrillo

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>