Silently

Elliot Minor

Take your swing and fall,
Pass through the turntable,
And for the first time, I stand there so far away,
And some will say...So silently, you make this day,
So unreal and never ending,
Standing on the endge believing,
That this will never end...As the day gets older I hear your voice,
Nothing stays for free, as the rain keeps falling,
I hear you calling my name, some will say...So silently, you make this ay,
So unreal and never ending,
Standing on the edge believing,
That this will never end,
This will never end...Silently, so silently,
You'll live for me, so silently.So silently, you make this day,
So unreal and never ending,
Standing on the edge believing, this way...
So silently, you make this day,
So unreal and never ending,
Standing on the ende believing,
That this will never end, this will never end,
This will never end, this will never end...
