To Love Again

Jed Madela

The radio's fine, it helps me forget for a while... i look back and recall those days i had with you... sometimes i need a friend just to make it through another day spend without you...

You, you gave me all the reasons to live...
But then you had to go
And i just got to let you know It's hard to love again
just to make it through
Another day spend without you...

And i don't wanna go on pretending
That its gonna be a happy ending
If i should love again
Once i've learned to love again
And oh,...
It will never be the same without you baby
This pain inside me's driving me crazy
Coz it's hard to love again

Friends are great,
they cheer me up for sometime But when the day is done
My mind is back again with you Oh God i need a friend
just to make it through Another day spent without you

And i don't wanna go on pretending
That it's gonna be a happy ending
If i should love again
Once i've learned to love again
And oh,..

It will never be the same
without you baby
This pain inside me's driving me crazy
Coz it's hard to love again
Coz it's hard to love again...
