Dance With Me

The Dunwells

Lost my faith, now I'm on my own Lost inside, just tryin'a get on Found some time to think of you
Sticks and stones are for stubborn fools
Maybe in time we'll mend our mistakes
We pushed too hard, we were bound to break
Fought for life in this love affair
Bored and bold when you're not there
Maybe one day in the dear future light
We'll learn to run, maybe one day fly
Until that day I'll just stroll through life
Waiting for heaven to send me a sign.Dance with me darlin, in the pourin' rain
I wanna feel your breath against my skin
dont know when we'll get to do this again
so just dance, dance right onIt's human nature, well it seems to me Right for the moment, but it just aint to be I'm frail and weak, that aint good for us now
Confess my problems, I'll shout them all out So they float on the air, and land in the sea carried by waves until someone gives me my message clear, vibrant, and it will be:
Nothing is impossible to the will, and all you can seeDance with me darlin in the pourin' rain
I wanna feel your breath against my skin
dont know when we'll get to do this again
so just dance, dance right onBut this aint easy
But it never is, these days(The lonely road to find the clear,
It's time to move on, out of here
Tonight will be our last.
Tonight will be our last.)So dance with me darlin, in the pourin rain
(The lonely road to find the clear)
I want to feel your breath against my skin
(It's time to move on, out of here)
dont know when we'll get to do this again
(Tonight will be our last)
So just dance, dance right on (Tonight will be our last)dance with me darlin, in the pourin rain
(The lonely road to find the clear)
I want to feel your breath against my skin
(It's time to move on, out of here)

dont know when we'll get to do this again
(Tonight will be our last)
So just dance, dance right on (Tonight will be our last)The lonely road to find the clear
It's time to move on, out of here tonight will be our last.Tonight will be our last.
