Trust

Christina Perri

Like the winds, blowing
Changes, fast and growing
I knew better then
I knew better thenWords that hurt the ones you lovin'
Hatred for who you're becomin'
I knew better then yes
I knew better thenTo trust myself
To trust someone else
To trust the lies that slip from my mouth
Trust the heart I'm so quick to sellYes I knew better then
I knew better then
To trust love againMemories who won't stop stinging
Promises I could't believe in
I knew better then
I knew better thenTo trust myself
To trust someone else
To trust the doubt in the back of my mind
Trust the trail of pain left behind
Yes, I knew better then
I knew better then to trust love againAnd I'm so quick to lose
What was never mine to keep
And I cannot stand (oh) what's broken under me
I don't know how to forgive
Myself for everything that I missed
Learn trustLike the winds, blowing
Changes, fast and growing
I knew better then
I knew better then
