Better Place

Rumer

You're one of the lights still shining through Giving so much more than you take That's what you do while you carry that heavy load And everyone around you knows but you don't know how wonderful you areYou make the world a better place with your kindness
and your grace
You make the world a better place to beI can't deny I can't deny that it's a hard world For some it is a dark world but there are a billion lights shining Oh, don't stop shining You make the world a better place
with your kindness
and your grace
You make the world a better place to be'Cause what is it worth if we're not being kind?You do so much that nobody sees Moving quietly behind the scenes But you don't have to do anything to proveThat you make the world a better place
with your kindness
and your grace
You make the world a better place to beAll I know is that if we all could just stick together we can make it through this storm of indifference, violence and greed 'Cause what is it worth if we're not being kind to anyone?
What's it all worth if we haven't got time for anyone?
