

Save Me

Emily Hearn

You're holding me up when I can't stop sinking
Take my hand when I'm slipping away
And I know I don't deserve to keep you
But through it all, you decided to stay
Hold me up when the water's rising
Take me in when I've lost my way
And I know I don't deserve to keep you
But through it all, you decided to stay
Only you
When my walls were shaking
Only you
Could've ever saved me
Ever saved me
I was lost and forever wandering
Weak and weary, blown by the wind
And I didn't have a thing to offer
You were there; you were taking me in
I was down; I was barely breathing
I was threadbare, empty and thin
Like a desert in the rainy season
You fill me up and I sing it again
Only you
When my walls were shaking
Only you
Could've ever saved me
Ever saved me
When I break it down
You're like solid ground underneath my feet
'Cause my wandering soul
Needs an anchor holding on to me
Only you
When my walls were shaking
Only you
When my walls were shaking
Only you
Could've ever saved me
Only you
When my walls were shaking
Only you

Could've ever saved me

Could've ever saved me

Could've ever saved me

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>