Hooch

Sum 41

It's your last chance to find yourself in consequence
It's so hard to find a simple reason
Maybe I'll find myself with evidence
Hate breeds with nothing to believe in Another day, another day in paradise
If you only knew wouldn't it be nice
Get away, get away, get away
I'm about to detonateEverything to prove
Nothing to lose
Just when everything has fallen

To the ground Gonna knock it down

Just believe me when I tell you it's alrightThis time we're on our way to tragedy

Forever bored and outside from the in crowd

I've come to grips confronting my reality

Numb struck it's me against the world now

For all you know for all you know it's not for real

Spare me the obsession that you deal

Get away get away get away

I'm about to detonate Everything to prove

Nothing to lose

Just when everything has fallen

To the ground

Gonna knock it down

Just believe me when I tell you it's alrightEverything to prove

Nothing to lose

Just when everything has fallen

To the ground

Gonna knock it down

Just believe me when I tell you it's alrightI should've know right from the start You'd take this trust and rip me apart

Could be a change of heart fall into you, but don't believe that this is real

I fall into you, but don't believe that this is real

I fall into you, but don't believe that this is real

I fall into you, but don't believe that this is real
