

Decadence

Pet Shop Boys

You don't care about nothing
So you don't care about love
If you want me to come back
You'd better change You'd better give up talking about money
Begin thinkin' of love
If you want me to come back
You'd better change You'd better change for the better
It cost more than dollars and cents
Take it from me if it's got to be
An end to this decadence
This decadence You don't care about people
So you don't care about pain
If you want me to come back
You'd better change You'd better change for the better
Start using some common sense
Take it from me there's got to be
An end to this decadence For decadence, is fatal
It's the beginning of the end
In self defense
I cannot recommend
This decadence You don't care about real life
You're too distant and strange
If you want me to come back You'd better change for the better
It may be rather intense
Stop this caprice, you've got to cease
This fin-de-siecle pretence For decadence, is fatal
It's the beginning of the end
In consequence
I cannot recommend
This decadence This decadence
This decadence
This decadence

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>