

Safety In The Darkness

Kids In The Way

There's nothing I can say to build these bridges back
Against the tides that washed them away
The life has left this room
Like a thousand fires gone black against the sky and scarlet moon
The smoke is in the air, choking out the sun
It's rising in the air, I can't see
And I will find you there, somewhere in the dark
Buried in a place between dead and broken hearts
There's safety in the darkness, there's safety in the dark
I have left these shores to face the tempest night
That stirs the stars against the waters with its storms
The sirens sing their song, it's like a thousand hands
That pull me down and break the course I travel on
The ocean fills my lungs, drowning out the sun
It's rising in my lungs, I can't breathe
And I will find you there, somewhere in the dark
Buried in a place between dead and broken hearts
There's safety in the darkness, there's safety in the dark
I will find you there, somewhere in the dark
Buried in a place between dead and broken hearts
There's safety in the darkness, there's safety in the dark
Safety in the dark
I close my eyes to see the light that's leading me
I close my eyes to see, to see the light that's leading me
And I will find you there, somewhere in the dark
Buried in a place between dead and broken hearts
