

I Got Your Love

Donna Summer

I got your love

I got your love

I got your love

I got your love

I got your love

I got your love

I got your love

I got your love

I got your love

Your love, your love, your love

I got your love, all I ever think about

I got your love, every last drop

I got your love, it's all I ever think about

It's all I ever think about, all I ever think about

Baby, in the heart of my heart, I want more
Of the man who just walked through that door

The only one that my eyes see

Baby, as the moments have drifted away

As the hours became lonely days

You're the answer to what I have prayed

I, I will be good to you, I, I will be true

I got your love, it's all that I got

I got your love, all I ever think about

I got your love, every last drop

I got your love, all I ever think about

It's all I ever think about, all I ever think about

Oh, baby, losin' you's all that I fear

And I'm losing it when you're not here

I never could go on without you

Oh, baby, I feel like a shower of light

And I need you right here by my side

I'm craving you all of my life

I, I will be good to you, I, I will be true

I got your love, all that I got

I got your love, it's all I ever think about

I got your love, every last drop

I got your love, all I ever think about

It's all I ever think about, it's all I ever think about

It's all I ever think about
Aah, you move me, baby
It's all I ever think about
You move me, aah, you move me
You move me, aah, you move me
I got your love, it's all that I got
I got your love, it's all I ever think about
I got your love, every last drop
I got your love, it's all I ever think about
I got your love, it's all that I got
I got your love, it's all I ever think about
I got your love, every last drop
I got your love, it's all I ever think about
All I ever think about, all I ever think about
All I ever think about
