

Me And My Guitar

Freddie King

When my baby leaves me, there is nothing I can do
I pick up my guitar and then I play a little blues or two
Now, a man needs some loving, I ain't different from the rest
My baby, when she leaves me, ah, my whole life is in a mess Just me and my guitar
I play the blues for you, babe
No matter where you are I like to start out easy, just to get that feel
When I fell me strange, you know I make it for real
Then I put some hots on it and I play a time or two
And love you, baby, and I don't care what you do Babe, ah, me and my guitar
I play the blues for you, babe
No matter where you are, alright? Listen to me
Satisfaction don't come easy, you got to get in to make it good
The way I make my guitar singing, just let my woman should
She never talk right to me like some woman do
I feel so sad and lonesome when I play this lowdown blues Hey, hey, me and my guitar
I play the blues for you, babe
No matter where you are, alright? Hey, baby, hey, baby, just me and my guitar
I play the blues for me, baby
No matter where you are

Songwriters

Charles Edward Blackwell; Leon Russell Published by

IRVING MUSIC, INC. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>