Receive It

The Superjesus

Yesterday I told you once again
That I won't be made to wait any longer
And everything could turn forever when
When I don't know what to say, but I'll do it anywayAnd I wander through
The last of the loneliest avenue
And It's ever always just the sameInclination drifts upon my door
But I lost the only chance to receive it
And I don't know, what I've been fighting for Cause you know I won't pretend, if I'm calling you a friendAnd I wander through
The last of the loneliest avenue
And It's ever always just the sameAll I know is everyday's a little bit longer
I can revel in the state I'm in
Apart from all I see
Beside of meI wander through
The last of the loneliest avenue
And It's ever always just the sameAnd now I wander through
The last of the loneliest avenues
And It's always gonna be this way
