

Change the World

The Offspring

I see the way the salesman stare into the sun
I stood and watched them as they fell off one

By one

And everyone's so blind

They're not to help mankind

Reach into your bag of tricks and pull

Another one

You don't want to change the world

Like you say

Your in it for yourself

No one else

You're ready

Saving yourself

You're gonna change the world

You're ready

Saving yourself

You're gonna change the world

Now when the day is set they'll line up all

The same

And those that need the most will never get

Or gain

The ones you call your friends

Are failing you again

Reach into your bag of tricks and make it

Go away

You don't want to change the world

Like you say

Your in it for yourself

No one else

You're ready

Saving yourself

You're gonna change the world

You're ready

Saving yourself

You're gonna change the world

And since you ain't what you say

Then just go away

Cause some don't lie

Some don't lie

Go on now they won't tell
Go on now and save yourself
