

The Geeks Were Right (Album Version)

The Faint

Eyeballs float in wet green grass

I got a chainsaw motor that's filled with rain, proof

When it sings like bach with eyes all bulging

When the pink sun drops the eyelids fold

While I'm in deep REM sleep or twilight zones

I take a freight elevator and press fast forward

I get to grind these teeth and beat through time

If I could bring things back they'd be that WILDWhen I saw the future the Geeks were rightEgghead boys with thin white legs

They got modified features with software brains

But that's what the girls like, the geeks were rightWhen I saw the future the Geeks were rightPredator skills, chemical wars, plastic islands at sea

Watch what the humans ruin with machinesEyeballs float in wet green grass

I'm in a chainsaw choir and dreams

That bend that let me cut through time and stretch out bach

I make the dry eyes roll and wet eyes cross

While I'm in deep REM sleep or twilight zones

I take the freight elevator and press fast forward

So I can grind these teeth and beat through time

If I could bring things back they'd be that wildWhen I saw the future the Geeks were right
