

Maybe Baby (New Year's Day)

Sugarland

Every Christmas I come back to this town
I come lookin' through some lost and found
Wondering if you're still hanging around down here Well the hung day lights, they line these streets
Where I once loved you, and you once loved me
I'm sorry, it just gets to me I wonder if I called up your house
If your Momma would let you out
Maybe baby, I'll see you this Christmas
What do you say?
Or maybe baby, I'll see you on New Years day I remember your eyes with the snow outside
You said this place always looked a little better in white
I wanna look up and see your face one more time Feels like the clock stopped ticking the day I left
I think of you and I catch my breath
I'm sorry, you still get to me I wonder if you'll be going out
There's only one party in this town
Maybe baby, I'll see you this Christmas
I hope and pray
Or maybe baby, I'll see you on New Years day Baby it's so strange being back here again
I keep runnin' into our old friends
This old town ringing in one more year
I don't wanna let this feeling disappear I pray that you might be here tonight
And there you were standing shining underneath that light
Screaming at the ball on the TV countdown
Streamers and papers piling up on the ground Baby did you come alone?
Are you maybe looking for someone?
To kiss you
God I've missed you
Maybe baby, we didn't get Christmas
But if you stay
Maybe baby, we could have New Year's day Maybe (maybe)
Hey, ye, ye, ye, yeah
(Maybe)
Maybe
