Bright Moments

Times flies and it's flown away with me this time
All my good intentions taken out by my absent mind
Apologies are far too small when in them arrogance stands tall
So let me throw away my pride because I have nothing to hide
This is our fight, side by side
Reaching out to make this rightNo matter how small the chance or how great the task, I will try
No matter how long the fall or what's at stake, I'll aim to flyYou've shown me what it's like to live
Nowhere to look but up, nothing to hold back
Everything to give
Your friendship means the world to me
Maybe we'll never lose this
Maybe time will make us into memories
But one thing is true
In the end we'll be glad we gave all we had
