Shiv

Stavesacre

I'm crawling out of my skin
I hope I get under yours
So many times before
But you still wanna know whyI won't just lay down and die
What did you expect
I think that I could guess
But this weight is liftedAnd I'm like back from the dead
And I'm feeling kinda strange
I'm not the same
And I think I like the changeNothing lost, just cut away
Nothing left to hinder me
Pushing on, stronger every day
Leaning into the wind that used to carry me
(Nothing left to hinder me)The last shot nearly killed me
Eternity lifted me again
Oh, how I want to be
An offense, an unsettling presence in this lifeWhy'd you try to take me out?
Why try to keep me down?To get my eyes off me
Down each ugly street
Too many needs, too many
Souls on their kneesAnd where have I been?
Too much is me and mine
Too much is wasting time
With the cares of this lifeAnd now I understand
And I'm, I'm on my way
I feel like a man
And I, I think I like the changeNothing lost, just cut away
Pushing on, stronger every day
Leaning into the wind that used to carry me
(Nothing left to hinder me)The last shot nearly killed me
Eternity lifted me again
Oh how I want to be
An offense, an unsettling presence in this lifeWhy'd you try to take me out?
Why try to keep me down?
