

The Greatest Love Song

Ed Bruce

Sometimes I look at you, lookin at me
I can't believe what I see
A woman's love who keeps some givin me
The kind of love I tought could never be
The best words of love cannot compare
With the sprinkle of the stardust in your hair
And mallories in shame turn away
In the presence of your gentle loving wayAnd I know that I could never Ever put them on togheter
But if I could, I know that I would find
The greatest love song, in the whole wide world
Is writed in your rightsEveryday I see within your smile
The rainbows of a hundred thousand miles
And the million loving feelings I can say
So I'll just keep on loving you this wayAnd I know that I could never
Ever put them on togheter
But if I could, I know that I would find
The greatest love song, in the whole wide world
Is writed in your rights
