

Why Does It Go On

Rod Stewart

You know it ain't right to beat a man when he's down
Know it ain't right to eat when the hunger's around
It keeps on worrying me, as all around I see
And still it goes on, why does it go on? Why does it go on? You know it ain't right to take another man's life
You know it ain't right to take another man's wife
Keeps getting through to me, as everywhere I see
Why does it go on? Why does it go on? Why does it go on? They don't want love today
It's heading all the way
They'll burn your book and pencil, boy
Throw your mind away A man don't steal but has to work for his pay
(Let me tell you one thing)
A poker man deals from the top when he plays
But all good things we take, we don't build, we just break
Why does it go on? Why does it go on? Why does it go on? They don't want love today
It's heading all the way
They'll burn your book and pencil, boy
Throw your mind away A man don't steal, but has to work for his pay
(Let me tell you one thing)
A poker man deals from the top when he plays
But all good things we take, we don't build, we just break
Why does it go on? Why does it go on? Why does it go on? Yeah

Songwriters

John Barry Mason Published by

EDWIN H. MORRIS & CO., A DIV. OF MPL COMMUNICATIONS, INC.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>