Magdalene

Moonspell

Have you ever loved a woman who should be that little intruder in the one that should beShare the snake with us, swallow the snake for us...Have you ever loved a woman who instead of give or trade would seduce you with a tradeShare the snake with us, swallow the snake for us...You have learnt heaven through impure lips so different from what you have been told so different from what you have seenand now that you learnt you will have to release the tender arms of a woman which would have strangled you to let you live you will have to choose the fainting arms of this cross which are just killing you to let you live...Share the snake with us, follow the snake for us...

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/