Where I Ought to Be

Skeeter Davis

I got your wedding invitation
I'm surprised you thought of me
But I don't believe your wedding
Is just where I ought to beFor you put your arms around her Kiss her lips sp tenderly
As she standing there beside you
That's just where I ought to beLike a fool I introduced you i said baby meet my friend
Never thought I could lose you
But I lsot you there and thenI took the diamond ring you gave me
Threw it way out to sea
And I had an awful feeling
That's just where I ought to be
