

When Will I Be Famous?

Bros

When will I, will I be famous? Yes, you're suitably one
With your body and the sun
Yes, you are You've read Karl Marx
And you've taught yourself to dance
You're the best by far But you keep asking the question
Oh, you're not supposed to mention When will I, will I be famous?
I can't answer, I can't answer that
When will I see my picture in the paper?
I can't answer, I can't answer that When will I, will I be famous?
You keep asking me, babe You're a slave to fashion
And your life is full of passion
It's the way you are You've suffered for your art
With the jogging in the park
You know you should go far But you keep asking the question
Oh, you're not supposed to mention
I'm not supposed to mention When will I, will I be famous?
I can't answer, I can't answer that
When will I see my picture in the paper?
I can't answer, I can't answer that Oh, I can't tell you when
You'll see your name
Up in lights When will I, will I be famous?
You keep asking me, babe
I can't wait You won't suffer in silence
You're a talent, you know that I've noticed
You'd like to be a legend
Big star over night Tell me, when?
I can't answer your question
I can't wait, it's driving me insane
And you're impossible in patience
Tearing at my brain It's tearing
I can't take it, take it much more When will I, will I?
When will I? When will I, will I be famous?
I can't answer, I can't answer that
When will I, will I be famous?
I can't answer, I can't answer that When will I, will I be famous?
I can't answer, I can't answer that
When will I see my picture in the paper?
I can't answer, I can't answer that When will I?
When, when, tell me when?

I can't answer, I can't tell you
Answer that When will I, will I be famous?
