Our Last Night

Welcome to a place where me and you
Could search but never find the truth
And while the money speaks for the kings and queens
We bite our tongues until they bleed
They take our voices away
They take our voices away
No matter what we do or say
They try to make us fade away
They take our voices away
We are enchanted youth with misguided views
The more they win the more we lose
And while the wealthy cheat were on our hands and knees
We give the most but get the least
They take our voices away
They take our voices away
No matter what we do or say
They try to make us fade away
They take our voices away
Over time we've been removed
And now our lives are black and blue
Todays our chance to get our choices back
To finally live the life lacked
They take our voices away
They take our voices away
No matter what we do or say
They try to make us fade away
They take our voices away
