

Distopian Dream Girl

Built to Spill

can you make it real Make it more than will We are on a ride More than just feel We're on it all the time It's at the front of your mind But he hates David Bowie My stepfather looks just like David Bowie I think my stepdad's a fool I think Bowie's cool I'm the only thing that dies Without me there's nothing I think Lodger rules I would do the stupid thing If it came down to your life or mine And let you keep on living Full of what she said Waking up to a head full of bed "I'm alright," said the man to his wife She hadn't thought of it for a while She thought of it differently Than she thought she should be thinking And when she did To penetrate my comfort zone Just the thought of it's enough

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>