Winter Wind

Jon Schmidt

This precious heart, broken apart
Just leave it there and let it go
Cuz all I know is there's nothing better than
There's nothing better than
There's nothing better than

How it keeps beating, it keeps repeating
A blessing in disguise
Dry my eyes and realize there's something better than
There's something better than
There's something better than

Try to find all the beauty you have inside
Cuz the truth in love will survive
Tell me how can it end
When it hadn't a chance to begin

[Piano solo]

This precious heart, broken apart
Just leave it there and let it go
With all I know there's nothing better than
There's nothing better than
There's nothing better than

How it keeps beating, it keeps repeating
A blessing in disguise
Dry my eyes and realize there's something better than
There's something better than
There's something better than

Cuz we're blind by the darkness of in between Moving through you into a dream
There's a sky full of stars
So just be who you are, who you are
Who you are
Who you are
