Treason

Christophe Beck

It all starts here with my disgrace
I give you my life then I run in haste
In this false life something needs to giveTell me a reason why this isn't a treason
Tell me, tell me I'm wrong
I swear I'm back but then it turns out it's only a season
So tell me, tell me I'm wrongWith my two lips I will praise Your name
Then I turn around and only curse and blame
I give in, strength is thin, adding to my shameTell me a reason why this isn't a treason
Tell me, tell me I'm wrong
I swear I'm back but then it turns out it's only a season
So tell me, tell me I'm wrongYour blood it covered all my sin
You changed a traitor into kin
In this false life something needs to giveTell me a reason why this isn't a treason
Tell me, tell me I'm wrong
I swear I'm back but then it turns out it's only a season
So tell me, tell me I'm wrongTell me a reason why this isn't a treason
Tell me, tell me I'm wrong
I swear I'm back but then it turns out it's only a season
So tell me, tell me I'm wrong
