

Livin' the Dream

Nathan Carter

Well If you're tired of waiting in line
Feeling tired keeps passing you by
You're counting by the minute, losing and your winning
Always feeling one step behind
As your working every hour god sends
And you're burning a candle both ends
Trying to earn a living but everything you're giving
Is Getting thrown back in your face?

Oh I hear you say the same thing every day but not anymore there's a much better way.

(Chorus)

Get up, get out, start living the dream
Stand up, stand out you know what I mean
Get up, get out your well on your way
Stand up, stand out let's starting today
Even though the day when the struggle is real
Get up, get out and shout start living the dream
Well if you're sitting there thinking that's me and your starting to smile and agree
You know that you can figure a risk you gotta take it
It's all about the leap of faith

Oh I used to say same thing every day but not anymore there's a much better way

(Chorus)

Get up, get out, start living the dream
Stand up, stand out you know what I mean
Get up, get out your well on your way
Stand up, stand out let's starting today
Even though the day when the struggle is real
Get up, get out and shout(Instrumental)You know it's better to just ask forgiveness
Than Permission when it's already done

(Chorus)

Get up, get out, start living the dream
Stand up, stand out you know what I mean
Get up, get out your well on your way
Stand up, stand out let's starting today
Get up, Get Out
Get up, get out, start living the dream
Stand up, stand out you know what I mean
Get up, get out your well on your way
Stand up, stand out let's starting today
Even though the day when the struggle is real

Get up, get out and shout start living the dream
Ohhhhh yeah start living your dream (x3)
