

Heroin Face (Live In the Rocket, Crawley 12/77)

The Cure

Spit out the shout of a warning
Death is an honour with doubts
So you live in the end
And you mistrust the start
Because you don't think it counts But you'll pay for yourself
You'll pay for yourself
You're just a heroin face You see a heroin face in the mirror
And someone is clutching your breath
And you believe in the needle of night
You're only doing your best But you'll pay for yourself
You'll pay for yourself You believe in the needle of night
And someone is cluthing your breath
So you mistrust the start
By always running away
But you'll never come back But you'll pay for yourself
You'll pay for yourself
You're just a heroin face You're just a heroin face
You're just a heroin face
You're just a heroin face
You're just a heroin face [Incomprehensible]

Songwriters

SMITH, ROBERT JAMES / TOLHURST, LAURENCE ANDREW Published by Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>